Tutoring Experience

In the last decade, I have worked with students from all over the world, helping them master IB Biology and other curriculums like A-Level and IGCSE. My experience spans across both standard and higher levels, and I focus on helping students improve their understanding of biology concepts, from genetics to ecology, while achieving high grades in their exams.

My tutoring has also included helping students tackle advanced biology topics for university entrance exams, ensuring they are well-prepared for their next academic steps. Over the years, many of my students have successfully moved on to study at prestigious universities, securing excellent scores in biology-related subjects.

Beyond exams, I have worked with students on internal assessments and extended essays for the IB program. By providing feedback and guidance, I ensure that they develop their ideas clearly and meet the program's rigorous standards, leading to top scores in their submissions.
