Tutoring Experience

I've worked with students from different academic backgrounds, helping them succeed in IB English and other English-focused curriculums like A-Level and IGCSE. My students have consistently improved their analytical writing and literature comprehension skills, which has helped them achieve excellent grades in their exams.

Additionally, I've supported students in AP English Literature, helping them understand complex texts and improve their essay-writing abilities. My students have gone on to secure places in top universities, with strong performance in their English exams serving as a key component of their success.
